Clause	Heading	Comments
	Entire Document	Generic: This is more a structural comment, I think the 'guidance' information in this document should be incorporated in the the appropriate B2B procedure as guidance notes. Long term the maintenance of a separate document is not efficient and it can complicate participants' understanding of the B2B procedures purpose and intent.
	Jurisdictional New Connections Processes	The proposed process diagrams depict potential variances with how 'New Connections' can be achieved in the different jurisdictions based on the new roles and responsibilities in market. Ou business wishes to understand whether the proposed processes depicted could be used in other jurisdictions as well (NSW being the exception given the ASP scheme). If this is the case, suggest that the flows indicate which jurisdiction the proposed process can be used in (rather than nominating the jurisdiction).
